8. REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE ADMISSION TEST

In relation to the provision contained in the Ministerial decree of 26 June 2020 n. 235, in cases where more than one examination room is used, candidates will be distributed by age, except for twins. A candidate's test carried out in a different room from the one assigned will be annulled, unless the variation will be authorized by the exam commission and transcribed in the minutes. During the admission test, candidates cannot interact with anyone, except for the invigilators or the members of the Commission; candidates cannot consult any textbooks, copy or exchange material, including personal data sheets and answer sheets. Candidates cannot keep bags or backpacks, and it is forbidden to carry in the classroom cell phones, palm-held electronic devices, smartphones, smartwatches, tablet, earphones or similar handheld devices, pens, pencils, stationary items (or other similar writing items), manuals, textbooks and their partial reproductions, handwritten notes, blank paper, consultation material as well as other electronic or communication devices. Any breach of these rules will result in a void exam. Candidates must use only the black pen distributed by the test commission for compiling the answer sheet; candidates can correct one (and only one) answer, by completely blacken the previously given answer box and choose another response; only one of the five possible options must ticked so that the answer is clear.

If a candidate decides not to answer a question, s/he must put a cross in the small circle on the answer sheet in correspondence to each question: once a cross has been put in the circle, no modifications can be made; if a candidate decide not to put a cross in the circle on the answer sheet in correspondence to each question and no mark appears in the answer boxes it will be considered as the candidate decided not to answer the question. The signing or marking of the answer sheet by the candidate or a member of the Commission will also result in a void exam.

When the test is over, the candidate must go to a desk far from the test commission, where he will find a pen, and choose a couple of identical code labels. Candidates must put each code label on the personal data form as well as on the admission test answer sheet, and they must verify the correspondence between the two identical code labels. Candidates must complete the personal data form and must sign it also for the declaration of correspondence of the codes of the labels applied to the personal data form and to the answer sheet, at the time of delivery of the answer sheet. The use of personal pens, pencils or other writing material during the delivery of the personal data sheet and the answer sheet into the dedicated boxes, or the use of pens and pencils to edit, integrate or correct any part of the answer sheet will result in a void exam.

At the end of the procedures described above the candidate must insert the personal data form into the sealed box put on the desk (on the side of the form is reported a sample of a personal data sheet) far from the test commission and insert the answer sheet into the other closed box put on the commission desk with the written side of the answer sheet flipped over so that answers cannot be visible.

9. RANKING, MINIMUM PASSING SCORE AND TEST EVALUATION

Enrollment is subject to the candidate's position in the merit ranking drawn up according to the available places for each degree course and expressed options.

The ranking for candidates residing abroad is drawn up by universities.

In the ranking list, candidates who scored more points in the test will prevail. In the event of a tie score, the following criteria will be applied to determine placement:
